| Situation Summary:                      | Firefighters stopped forward progress of the fire holding the current footprint at 1,134 acres. The acreage of the fire grew slightly after advanced LACoFD Unmanned Aircraft Systems (UAS Drones) mapping gave a more accurate accounting of the fire's acreage. A Cal Fire intel flight was conducted over the Ridge fire to identify any hotspots and crews continue to work on interior mop up of those identified areas. Today work will focus around the perimeter of the fire as crews were able to increase containment to 95% overnight. Today forecasts are calling for temperatures to 94-96°F with light winds 8-12 mph out of the South Southwest with gusts on the ridges reaching up to 15-20mph. Additionally, forecasts over the next few days show weather instability and chances of thunderstorms over the fire area. |
